

further discussion and additional suggestions relative to programs for the future meetings.

Mrs. Lois Harris, chairman of the program committee, distributed copies of the President.

communiqué the secretary was instructed to forward to Miss Thelma Greenhaw, state of teaching material and films available in the field of Mental Hygiene, which Subherland requested time on the program to acquaint the visiting teacher to Miss Meetings; from Miss English, Education Director of the Mental Hygiene Society to Miss from Mr. Davis Y. Paschal in reply to a special invitation to attend December Regional Subherland in appreciation of the invitation to the Visiting Section of the VMA;
The following communiqués were read: from Mr. Dowell Howard to Miss Minnie E.

Due to limited time the group voted to dispense with the reading of the minutes.

Miss. Lucy of the Hanley High School were welcomed as special guests.

The afternoon session convened at 2 P.M. Following lunch at the Laural Brigade room "The Prophet".

The group expressed that with devotionals by Mr. Howell using as his topic experts as chief consultant to the parent education and behavior. Though unheeded the entitled "School for Parents" made for the N.B.C. Television, in which he participated most interesting and challenging series of lectures.

The group expressed that with hearted appreciation to Dr. Lindorff for his picture was an excellent production of its kind and received the acclaim of the group.
as chief consultant to the parent education and behavior. Though unheeded the entitled "School for Parents" made for the N.B.C. Television, in which he participated in conclusion Dr. Lindorff presented a most interesting and enlightening film giving.

In children and that often such condemnation is only a projection of their adults should realize that they are often guilty of that which they condemn the child must be freed from any guilt complex in relation to sex.

Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

Accept all references and inquiries relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

1. Accepting to sex:

A period was given to teach Dr. Lindorff offered the following guides especially on problems members, relative to the solution of problems presented by group relating to sex:

2. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

3. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

4. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

5. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

6. Adults should realize that they are often guilty of that which they condemn in children and that often such condemnation is only a projection of their

adults should realize that they are often guilty of that which they condemn the child must be freed from any guilt complex in relation to sex.

Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

Accept all references and inquiries relative to sex as a part of normal child
development.

7. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

8. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

9. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

10. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

11. Accepting to sex:

12. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

13. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

14. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

15. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

16. Accepting to sex:

17. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

18. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

19. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

20. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

21. Accepting to sex:

22. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

23. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

24. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

25. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

26. Accepting to sex:

27. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

28. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

29. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

30. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

31. Accepting to sex:

32. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

33. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

34. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

35. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

36. Accepting to sex:

37. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

38. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

39. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

40. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

41. Accepting to sex:

42. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

43. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

44. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

45. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

46. Accepting to sex:

47. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

48. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

49. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

50. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

51. Accepting to sex:

52. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

53. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

54. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

55. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

56. Accepting to sex:

57. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

58. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

59. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

60. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

61. Accepting to sex:

62. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

63. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

64. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

65. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

66. Accepting to sex:

67. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

68. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

69. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

70. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

71. Accepting to sex:

72. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

73. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

74. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

75. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

76. Accepting to sex:

77. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

78. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

79. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

80. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

81. Accepting to sex:

82. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

83. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

84. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

85. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

86. Accepting to sex:

87. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

88. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

89. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

90. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

91. Accepting to sex:

92. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

93. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

94. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

95. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

96. Accepting to sex:

97. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

98. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

99. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

100. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

101. Accepting to sex:

102. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

103. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

104. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

105. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

106. Accepting to sex:

107. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

108. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

109. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

110. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

111. Accepting to sex:

112. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

113. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

114. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

115. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

116. Accepting to sex:

117. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

118. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

119. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

120. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

121. Accepting to sex:

122. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

123. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

124. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

125. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

126. Accepting to sex:

127. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

128. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

129. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

130. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

131. Accepting to sex:

132. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

133. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

134. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

135. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

136. Accepting to sex:

137. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

138. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

139. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

140. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

141. Accepting to sex:

142. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

143. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

144. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

145. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

146. Accepting to sex:

147. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

148. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

149. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

150. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

151. Accepting to sex:

152. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

153. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

154. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

155. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

156. Accepting to sex:

157. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

158. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

159. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

160. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

161. Accepting to sex:

162. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

163. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

164. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

165. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

166. Accepting to sex:

167. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

168. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

169. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

170. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

171. Accepting to sex:

172. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

173. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

174. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

175. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

176. Accepting to sex:

177. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

178. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

179. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

180. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

181. Accepting to sex:

182. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

183. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

184. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

185. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

186. Accepting to sex:

187. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

188. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

189. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

190. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

191. Accepting to sex:

192. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

193. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

194. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

195. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

196. Accepting to sex:

197. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

198. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

199. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

200. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

201. Accepting to sex:

202. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

203. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

204. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

205. Correct adjustment must avoid negative reaction on child's part.

206. Accepting to sex:

207. Accepting differences and tendencies relative to sex as a part of normal child development.

208. Avoid negative emphasis in relation to sex matters.

209. Avoid placing taboos on sex, sex relations and implications.

<p

Following program schedule was decided on as to time, place, speaker and topic:

January - Wed. 21 st. at 10:00 A. M., at the Stonewall Jackson Hotel, Manassas, Dr. James Thorpe, Director of the Child Guidance Center, Fairfax County on Techniques of Group Therapy.

February - Wed. 18 th. at 10:00 A. M., at the Stonewall Jackson Hotel, Manassas, Members of the State Department specifying Mr. Sisson, Director of Guidance, on the Relationship of the Visiting Teacher and Guidance Programs in the state.

March - No regional meeting, business meeting to be called at the State Conference at Natural Bridge if necessary.

April - Wed. 15th. at 10:00 A. M., at the Stonewall Jackson Hotel, Manassas, a representative of the Educational Division of the Mental Hygiene Society to give previews of several available films and educational materials.

May - Wed. 20 th. at 10:00 A. M., at Dickey Ridge near Front Royal, picnic lunch, social meeting and final business session.

Mr. Worrell, group chairman of the policies committee distributed revised copies of the purposes and policies of the Visiting Teacher program.

Mrs. Rigdon gave a resume of the State Planning Meeting, preparatory to the March conference of Visiting Teachers and Supervisors to be held at Natural Bridge. (Details of this report not recorded in minutes as final reports will be mimeographed and mailed from the State Department.)

The president also commented on proposed revisions of the monthly report form as suggested by the state committee, stating that tentative revised forms would be in the hands of the visiting teachers by Feb. to be used through May, at which time they would be subjected to a final revision, as a result of further individual suggestions.

The following committees were appointed by the president: Professional Library, Velma Copeland; Nominating Committee, Alice Hatch, Esther White, Alice Cady.

Mrs. Alice Hatch reported formulated plans for a new detention home as a result of the meeting of District VI conference of Social Workers held in Fairfax.

The following announcements were made: Meeting of the I. C. E. C. Jan. 27 th. Credit Courses are being offered through the Arlington Child Guidance Clinic by Dr. Philips on 'Problems of Childhood'.

The secretary was instructed to write a letter of appreciation to the Loudoun Community College for making possible the in service training course.

Mrs. Alice Cady was given a vote of thanks for her splendid arrangement of meetings of the group in Leesburg.

No further business the president declared the meeting adjourned.

Sadie O. Embrey, Sec-treas.,
Northern Virginia Visiting Teachers

Members present: Chairman of the Library Committee, reported a short history of

Lois M. Harris
Mary Dean Baccus
Velma M. Copeland
Esther P. White
Alice L. Hatch
Harriett R. Gordon

Louise D. Rigdon
Sadie O. Embrey
Alice L. Cady
Ernest Worrell
Roberta P. Jordan
Mildred Lee Grove
Hazel Van Anden

REGIONAL MEETING -- NORTHERN VIRGINIA VISITING TEACHERS

Minutes

January 22, 1953

On the above date, the Northern Virginia Visiting Teachers held their regional meeting in the Stonewall Jackson Hotel in Manassas.

The meeting convened at 10 A. M. Mrs. Lois Harris, program chairman, introduced guest speaker, Dr. James Thorpe, Director of Fairfax Guidance Center who gave a most enlightening talk on Group Therapy.

He familiarized the group with the work of the Fairfax Guidance Clinic relative to personnel, procedure, types of referrals, and availability of services, citing two groups of parents and adolescents now receiving service.

He pointed out the advantages of group as compared to individual therapy, that group therapy was available to all classes regardless of social or economic status; that it made possible services to larger numbers; that it initiated more freedom of expression; that it was available and beneficial to teachers and guidance workers as well as parents and children; that it served both diagnostic and therapeutic purposes.

Dr. Thorpe explained the nature of group therapy by citing specific cases, showing how clients reacted to each other and to the therapist, their usual freedom and frankness in discussion thus arriving at basic causes of their problem and by sharing experiences and opinions, administer as well as receive therapy.

Mrs. Harris thanked Dr. Thorpe in behalf of the group for his interesting and instructive lecture.

The afternoon session, devoted to business, was presided over by the president, Mr. Worrell opened the meeting with his usual inspirational devotional, using as his topic "Out of the Heart Come the Issues of Life".

The group voted to dispense with the reading of the minutes since copies were in the hands of each member. Noted correction was the change in the date from Wednesday, January 21st to Thursday, January 22nd.

COMMITTEE REPORTS:

The program committee, Lois Harris, Chairman, confirmed by reading the schedule of programs as set up and approved in the December meeting.

The Nominating Committee was requested to report on the slate of officers at the February meeting.

OLD BUSINESS:

Copies of Dr. Indorf's lecture notes were distributed to the group as requested in previous session.

Copies of the revised constitution were also distributed by the president.

Velma Copeland, Chairman of the Library Committee, requested a clarification of her duties. It was decided that the proposed professional library consist of loaned personal books; that a recommended list of reading material be prepared by members, to be compiled by the chairman for distribution. It was further decided that a brief period on each program be devoted to book reports and reviews.

The group was requested to make a choice of photographs to accompany the write-up of the training class for publication in the V. E. A.

training class for publication in the V. E. A.

NEW BUSINESS:

It was requested that each member prepare a list of suggestions for future programs to be submitted to the new program chairman.

It was also decided that a copy of the report of the in-service training class be sent to the N. E. A. for publication.

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

The Northern Virginia Association of Guidance and Personnel Workers will be held in Fairfax High School, Tuesday, February 10th, with Dr. James Thorpe speaking on the topic "Handling the Personality Problems of Students and Employers".

The meeting was declared adjourned by the president.

Respectfully submitted,

Sadie O. Embrey, Sec.

The following members were present:

Lois Harris
Velma M. Copeland
Mary Higgins
Nelson W. Goe, Jr.
Esther P. White
Alice E. Hatch
Harriett R. Gordon

Louise D. Rigdon
Sadie O. Embrey
Alice L. Gady
Ernest Worrell
Roberta P. Jordan
Mildred Lee Grove
Hazel Van Anden
Mary Dean Baccus

MINUTES OF THE REGIONAL MEETING OF THE NORME N VISITING TEACHERS

January, 1953 at the following time and place: Feb. 16, 1953

On the above date the Visiting Teachers of Northern Virginia held their regular meeting in the Manassas High School. The meeting convened at 10:30. The following guests were introduced and welcomed by the president: Mr. Ralph Nagler, Guidance Director of Warren County High School; Miss Emma Ellmore, Guidance Director of Herndon High School; Miss Martha Realy, Guidance Director of Fairfax High School; Miss Winnie Sutherland and Mr. Craigill Burks, Supervisors of Secondary Education of Fairfax High School; Mrs. Ann Pullman, Guidance Director and Mrs. Elsie Snodgrass, Eighth Grade Coordinator of Falls Church High School and Mr.

Orange High School.

Mr. Worrell conducted a most appropriate devotional centering on the topic "Lives in Contrast".

Mrs. Lois Harris, Program Chairman, introduced the guest speakers for the State Department, Dr. Francis W. Sisson, Supervisor of Guidance and Miss Virginia Sutton, Assistant Supervisor of Elementary Education.

Miss Sutton complimented the Visiting Teacher Program, expressed her pleasure at being present at this meeting.

Dr. Sisson spoke on the Relationship of the Visiting Teacher and Guidance Program, emphasizing the proper working relationship between all school personnel as essential to ideal solutions of class room problems.

In order to accomplish such ideal working relationships the following are necessary:

1. Each member of school personnel must have clear concept of the problem.
2. An understanding and solution of individual problems becomes a matter of working relationship.
3. Recognition of differences of problems in guidance on a secondary and primary level.
4. That referrals not always constitute disciplinary and failing problems but general instructional goals.

Dr. Sisson then opened the meeting for general questions and discussion which centered around the following:

1. Prevention of drop-outs in high school.
2. What measures can be taken to develop non-academic minded child.
3. Extent of teacher responsibility in guidance problems.
4. Importance of development of teacher security in solution of problems.

The president expressed appreciation of the group to Dr. Sisson and Miss Sutton for their presence.

The meeting adjourned for lunch in the Coffee Shop.

The afternoon session was presided over by the president. By vote of the group the reading of minutes were dispensed with.

The group expressed regret at Mrs. Cady's illness, and suggested that individual members send cards.

Mrs. Lois Harris Chairman of Program Committee announced that previews of several available films with a representative for the Virginia Society of Mental Hygiene would constitute program for April Meeting.