Hamilton, Va.
May 11, 1931.

Resolution to Superintendant of Public Instruction of Loudoun County.

With a deep interest in the spiritual welfare of the youth of Loudoun County, and that the several forms of so called amusements sponsored by our public schools should not conflict with instruction for Christian living as taught in the Sabbath schools of our different churches; therefore be it

"Resolved, That we do hereby respectfully request that all bridge games and promiscuous dancing be excluded from all graded and high schools.

Grounds for request:

1. That these amusements are given without the consent of a large number of taxpayers.
2. That pupils whose parents object to forms of worldly amusements given by the classes of which pupils are members are embarrassed.
3. That it is inconsistent to practice in our public schools that which is condemned by Christian teachers in the Sabbath schools of our churches.
4. That these two forms of amusements are excluded from the public schools in other counties of our state.
5. That ministers having children in school are embarrassed.
6. That many Christian people of our churches condemn such amusements as being inconsistent with Christian living.

*Unanimously adopted by the Ministerial Union of Loudoun County in session at the Hamilton
M.E. Church South. May 11-1931*

*Respectfully submitted,
John A. Bowman
